

Net property

LEASEHOLDERS who want to buy the freehold of their properties now have expert advice available at the touch of a keyboard.

A new website - www.leaseholdersupport.co.uk - provides a one-stop-shop for property management advice.

The service costs from £525 and includes access to support time, a conference with a specialist, quality-controlled contractors and competitive block insurance rates.